The Four Nuns

It was Friday, and four nuns went to the priest at the local Catholic Church to ask for the weekend off. They argued back and forth for a few minutes. Finally, the priest agreed to let them leave the convent for the weekend. "However", he said, "as soon as you get back Monday morning I want you to confess to me what you did over the weekend." The four nuns agree, and ran off. Monday comes, and the four nuns return.

The first nun goes to the priest and says, "Forgive me, Father, for I have sinned." The priest asks, "What did you do, Sister?" She replies, "I watched an R-rated movie." The priest looks up at heaven for a few seconds, then replies, "You are forgiven. Go and drink the holy water." The first nun leaves, and the fourth nun begins to chuckle quietly under her breath.

The second nun then goes up to the priest and says, "Forgive me, Father, for I have sinned." The priest replies, "OK, what happened?" She says, "I was driving my brother's car down the street in front of his house, and I hit a neighbor's dog and killed it." The priest looks up to heaven for half a minute, then says, "You are forgiven. Go and drink the holy water." The second nun goes out. By this time, the fourth nun is laughing quite audibly.

Then the third nun walks to the priest and says, "Forgive me, Father, for I have sinned." The priest asks, "Out with it. What did you do?" She says, "Last night, I ran naked up and down Main Street." The priest looks up at heaven for a full five minutes before responding, "God forgives you. Go and drink the holy water." She leaves.

The fourth nun falls on the floor, laughing so hard tears run down her cheeks. The priest asks her, "OK. What did you do that was so bloody funny?" The fourth nun replies, "I peed in the holy water..."

Club Meeting – October 2007.

The meeting was attended by approx 12 members who all celebrated the return of our President from Canada and other restful places I am sure. The meeting was short and sweet as they should be with a general update of going on's. One piece of important business was the changing of the Xmas break up date. This is because of availability dates for the park venues. Work has started on the store shed at the back of the shed so volunteers will soon be required to fit this area out with racks etc.

D.U.T.A.

Brian, Neta, Lillian and Laurie recently spent another great three day at the Down Under Turn Around held at Cowes recently.

Along with approximately another 115 people, 61 lathes, over a thousand chisels' (and chisellers!) wood to the armpits and knowledge by truck load there was not much more to ask for. Turning from dawn to later than late is the order of the day with occasional stops to tuck into all of the tremendous food that continually flows. Skills seen and shared are only matched by the amount of shavings and dust that appears. (Not all the dust is from the wood either.) A silent auction is held for items made on site and combined with a raffle, over $2200:00 was raised and will be presented to the Wonthaggi Hospital as the second and final payment for a dialysis' chair. Well done to all concerned in the running of this great event. If you have not been before, where have you been!

CLUB'S OPEN DAY.

Hello woodies all over. Only one more newsletter before our open day and we are hoping to meet and greet woodies, families and friends from all over which is the main intent of the day. We will have in attendance members from the International Wood Collectors in attendance providing advice, identification and information on what you always wanted to know. They will also have a slabbing machine on site that you can get those odd pieces you have slabbed to suit. We have a chainsaw carver on site showing how it is done. Demonstrations by members from various clubs, triton and organoil will be ongoing and timber sales and accessories will be available. An interesting day for everyone! Have a go yourself, there will plenty on hand to show you the safe way. Hope to see you there.

Laurie.
